

BREXIT STATEMENT

With all the uncertainty and questions being raised by Brexit and the impact this may cause generally, at Metpro we have sought to consider our business and to strengthen all aspects of our operations ahead of the revised 31st October 2019 exit date to ensure we continue to provide the high levels of service our customers have come to expect.

Whilst it is impossible to predict the actual effects on trade as we move into this new era, the focus at Metpro is to be proactive in our approach.

As part of our pre-Brexit strategy, we continue to work closely with our manufacturing partners to mitigate any potential problems that Brexit may bring. A key element has been to significantly increase both stockholding and forward stock orders to ensure a smooth and continuous supply. Further to this, we are also closely monitoring and expediting incoming stock to minimise logistical issues and ensure on-time arrival.

Prices may become volatile due to factors outside of our control however with the help of our manufacturing colleagues we are looking to stabilise prices where we can. We will do our utmost to absorb any price increases wherever possible and keep disruption to an absolute minimum, thus ensuring that our high service levels are maintained to Metpro customers.
